

Case Study

Project:

Media City, Manchester.

Description:

Finished in durable polar white Formica laminate, each 750mm diameter column casing stands 3000mm high and is made up from 16 separate 'quartered' segments, which are secured to the structural column and connected by brushed stainless steel laminate feature joints with matching brushed stainless steel header and skirting collars.

