Hard wearing, postformable and versatile

Laminates from the Woodgrains range can be used extensively within any environment as a horizontal or vertical surface. They can be postformed and can also be produced as Compact grade laminate.

Subtle, classic and vibrant

The composition of the range allows for a wide variety of end applications.

Lightwoods with soft, non-planked designs offer subtle, undulating effects for wall panelling and furniture. Strong cathedrals, ideal for doors, are embodied in designs such as Golden Birch. For an affluent appearance, luxury woods such as Toffee Wood offer deep, rich effects.

Finished to perfection

Designs within the Formica Woodgrains range are available in various finishes to reflect the surface of real wood whilst emphasising grain and colour.

This comprehensive range is suited to a multitude of applications and environments, providing specifiers and designers with a full and varied selection of stunning laminates.
